

Study Abroad: Now More Than Ever

Dieser Pass ist gültig:
Passport less valid:

Valid until 2018

Getting Started

- Start planning now! Applications for programs are generally due well in advance. Research the available options by visiting the Study Abroad office and speaking with a program advisor one year before you would like to travel.

Why Study Abroad?

- Create Global Awareness
- Enhance Academic Learning
- Develop Leadership Skills
- Advance Your Career
- Experience Personal Growth
- Learn Another Language
- Create lifelong friends!

Preparing For Your Future

“In the 21st Century, there will be only two kinds of people: Those who think globally and those who are looking for work.”

Peter F. Drucker

Writer, Management Consultant, Professor

Global Competencies

- Individuals must acquire and demonstrate a number of skills in order to live and work successfully in a global economy. Individuals must also be able to thrive in a diverse society, with people from different backgrounds, cultures and countries.
- These skills are often characterized as global competencies

Funding Your Study Abroad

Financial Aid

- At many institutions, financial aid transfers to Study Abroad Programs

Scholarships

- Advance Planning and Budgeting

Funding Your Study Abroad

- ➊ The cost of living in some countries is less than in the US
- ➋ Not all programs cost the same—shop around.
- ➌ Air travel can be a significant portion of the expenses. Flights to countries closer to home or flights to popular destinations tend to be cheaper. Student discounts are also available.

Coursework

- With careful planning, students in any major or college can fit an international program into their curriculum and still maintain regular progress towards graduation.
- Depending on the program chosen, it is likely that there will be courses available in any major or minor, or courses which apply toward completion of elective or General Education requirements.

Where Can You Go?

Africa

Australia

Latin America

Europe

Middle East

Asia

Room and Board

- Living arrangements vary from one location to another. Possibilities include university residence halls, staying with a host family in a private home, sharing an apartment, and boarding houses.
- In some cases you will have a meal plan similar to those at your home institution. In other cases, you or your host family will be responsible for providing meals.

